Friday Update from Bishop Cherry

Dear Friends,

Ordination

Please pray for Liz Houghton who will be ordained Deacon in Newport Cathedral at 11am tomorrow morning (Saturday June 27th) Details of the livestreaming are below. Please also pray for Revd Becca Stevens, her training incumbent, and the Newport North Ministry Area where Liz will be serving.

Although a day of great rejoicing and celebration, we remain very mindful that many others due to be ordained this weekend as deacons and priests and licensed as Reader are having to wait until later in the year because of the Welsh Government's restrictions in the light of COVID 19. This is entirely understandable, but it leaves our ordinands and Reader somewhat in limbo. We continue to pray for them and hope that their day of celebration will come in early October.

Congratulations

We send our warmest congratulations to The Ven Peter Woodman who celebrated the 60th anniversary of his ordination to the diaconate last week. Peter, who was made deacon on 24th June 1960, served the whole of his ministry in the Diocese of Monmouth, retiring in 2001 having been Archdeacon of Monmouth from 1993. He continues to minister with PTO (Permission To Officiate) Peter was hoping for a big celebratory service to mark the occasion which will hopefully now take place when such occasions are possible once again. We thank God for Peter's faithful ministry over the years.

Retirements

I am immensely grateful to Stephen James who was serving as Bishop's Chaplain when I arrived in the Diocese last February. Stephen was a calm and steady presence for me, not to mention a practical help, in the first few services I was involved in, including my first Confirmation. Stephen writes:

"As some of you will know, I had originally decided to step down as the Bishop's Chaplain and retire just after Easter last year, but subsequently agreed to stay on until a new Bishop was in place and settled in.

Having supported Bishop Cherry at her enthronement service and over the last few months, I feel it is now time to step back and I will be relinquishing my licence and retiring on 30th June.

However, I am not moving and Bishop Cherry has kindly agreed to grant me PTO, so I will still be able cover services where needed. I have also agreed to continue as the Bishop's Retired Clergy Officer and produce the monthly diocesan prayer list."

I am also deeply grateful to Paul Thompson for the tremendous work he has done as Diocesan Director of Ordinands and Curate at Newport Cathedral since 2014. Paul's wisdom, insight and pastoral care has helped and supported many a candidate through the discernment process towards Licensed Lay Ministry and Ordination. He has been a great support for me and, as a diocese, we have much to thank him for. Paul is retiring at the end of the month and we wish him and his family well.

Thank you to both Stephen and Paul. May God bless you in your 'retirement'.

This week Rev Sally Ingle-Gillis from Wentwood Ministry Area looks at the Importance of Language

How many weeks have we been worshipping online? I've given up counting! What I learnt almost immediately, and have continued to make a note of, and consider in our online worship, is the importance of the language we use.

No doubt you will have your own examples of language that works for you and doesn't, and I think there are one or two key aspects we need to be careful about.

If you are recording and leading worship, after the service do you check your stats? Are you interested to know how many viewers you had? Or are you keen to discover how many people came to church with you, or worshiped with you?

And if you are taking part in online worship from your sofa, or kitchen, or bed, do you go to church? Or do you watch the service?

It's a subtle difference isn't it? And I think it matters!

When we meet physically, we anticipate worship as an interactive communion with God and with each other. Being online, particularly if the service is on YouTube, makes this much harder. Zoom and other live platforms are easier to perceive as services because they do allow real interaction, but they come with other difficulties directly related to this - several people trying to sing without hitting mute has to be experienced to know how tricky it can be! So here's the challenge, to those creating worship and those participating at home: worship should be just that - an opportunity to set aside the daily business and to spend time with God, handing our lives to him, in all their imperfections, expectations, hopes, and concerns. So let's not get sucked into YouTube words that don't work for us and run the risk of changing the experience more than necessary - let's make our worship as interactive as possible; people praying, lighting candles, singing. We must resist the notion of "watch and critique", and of counting viewers and kidding ourselves we are an internet sensation! So, wherever you go to church on Sunday I hope you encounter God and are able to worship. That is certainly my prayer, for all God's people.

The Venerable Peter Woodman has just celebrated the 60th anniversary of his ordination. Had the Church been open, Peter would have taken a special service at St Peter's Goetre this last Sunday. As it is, local members of the parish gathered (carefully) outside his house to clap and make a small presentation.

To replace the Clap for Carers on a Thursday night Goetre are also asking residents to place one item of food on their wall or the end of their driveway. This will then be collected by a volunteer and in turn given to the food bank.
