

Friday Round Up

This email has been sent to all Clergy, PTOs, Churchwardens, Secretaries, and all those on our Friday email list.

Dear Friends,

October 25th has been designated 'Link Sunday' this year; the day when the Dioceses of The Highveld and Monmouth celebrate the formal Companion Link that was created in 2003. The aims of the link include strengthening the mission and evangelism of both dioceses, increasing awareness of our solidarity in the cause of Christ, and respecting and learning of and from each other's cultural heritage. It was an enormous privilege to meet Bishop Charles the day after my consecration at the end of January this year and to learn something of the Church in South Africa. It had been my hope to go out to The Highveld sometime early next year, but of course that is not going to be possible for a while yet. Nevertheless, I am aware that there are churches across our diocese who maintain strong links with parishes in The Highveld and we hope that it won't be too long before the visits and exchanges can begin again.

We will be celebrating the Companion Link at the Cathedral on the 25th and I hope that you will be able to include prayers and thanksgivings in your own services. There are some ideas, including readings, in a suggested service here, some intercessions sent to us from The Highveld here and some videos here.

It is with some sadness that I pass on the news that Archdeacon Ambrose will be retiring later this year. Ambrose has served this diocese faithfully since 2006 and has been Archdeacon of Monmouth for the last seven years. We will be saying farewell to Ambrose and giving thanks for his ministry at a service on December 6th in the Cathedral at 5pm. We hope that we will be able to invite at least some people to join us on that occasion but, in any case, the service will be live-streamed for those who wish to join us on-line. Please keep Ambrose and Pixie in your prayers as they prepare to leave Monmouth and move to a new life in Brecon.

Being Ministers in the New Normal

An Autumn series of webinars from Diocese of Monmouth, for clergy, lay ministers and any others involved in ministry.

None of us could have predicted the impact of Covid-19 on our world, as well as our churches and Ministry Areas. In the midst of an already changing landscape, living in lockdown has also brought challenges and changes to our own identity and calling as Christian ministers.

This series of webinars is an opportunity to reflect more deeply on all the past six months has brought, bringing our varied experiences into conversation with one another, and with our theology of different aspects of ministry.

Each webinar will be repeated on Tuesday afternoons from 2pm-3pm, and on Thursday evenings 7.30pm-8.30pm. They will only last an hour, but include reflections from speakers within the Diocese, the opportunity for small group discussion, and to bring together feedback and ideas with the Diocesan Team.

Digital Harvest!

Harvest here in the Magor Ministry Area is always one of the highlights of the year with our church buildings beautifully decorated, filled with people singing well known Harvest hymns and giving thanks to God for the gifts of creation.

Services are often followed by wonderful harvest suppers and the opportunity to raise money or donate food and produce to our local foodbanks or charities. But this year nearly all of those things were going to be impossible due to ongoing restrictions.

So, we decided our main harvest service would be recorded and made available online to our wider communities. On a beautiful sunny afternoon Samuel our curate and I met on a hill near to Wilcrick church to record our service. Wilcrick is one of our remoter churches, surrounded by farmland and with spectacular views to far distant hills. The service all recorded outside was a simple liturgy of thanksgiving, hymns were produced by our newly formed digital worship band and Archdeacon Sue Pinnington kindly agreed to be our guest preacher. Archdeacon Sue joined in the spirit of the occasion recording her sermon in her amazing garden and showing us the fruits of her own harvest.

We kept the length of the service to just half an hour and made it readily available online and through our various social media platforms. We've discovered that all of our local communities have their own local Facebook pages which have thousands of followers. We've developed good relationships with these groups and on special occasions share our services widely with them. We've been amazed by the response we've had and it's an excellent way to engage with a greater number of people.

Ecclesiastical Grant Reporting Webinar

Monday, 20th October 4pm

This webinar will share insights into why measuring and reporting success is so important to grant funders, and how best your church can approach this and will include:

- the language of 'impact reporting' and what funders are looking for
- real-life examples of how you can decide what success looks like for your project
- how you can measure success effectively and report on it in a way that will make funders want to fund your next project too!
